Re: Code of Business Practice on Outbound Package Tours
Resolution No. 106

The trade has been employing different ways in counting the number of days of a package tour. This could easily result in disputes between consumers and travel agents especially when mid-night transportation are involved. Collection of service charges according to the number of days of a package tour further complicates the problem.

Having consider the present situation, the Board of Directors accepted the proposal of the Outbound Committee and resolved that with effect from 18th February 2002,

“In counting the number of days of a package tour, the first day shall be counted according to the scheduled departure time from Hong Kong of the transportation involved and the last day according to the scheduled arrival time at Hong Kong of the transportation involved.”

Your co-operation is highly appreciated.
